Numb. 569.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

FROM SEPTEMBER 7. TO SEPTEMBER 14. 1738.

LONDON, May 31.

THE Ships that went from Archangel to ſeek the North-East Paſſage, are got to the River Lena, which lies as far to the Eaſtward of the Weygatz Streights, as theſe are diſtant from Archangel; they winter'd at the Mouth of the Oby, and by the good Directions to ſet Lights at the Mouth of all the Rivers which empty themſelves into the Northern Ocean, there is no doubt but they will accompliſh their Deſign. This Paſſage to China and the East-Indies has been often attempted in vain, by the Northern Trading Nations, at great Expence and ſometimes Loſs of Lives, particularly by the Engliſh, in one of whoſe unfortunate Expeditions Sir Hugh Willoughby was frozen to Death with all his Crew on an Iſland ſince called by his Name.

BASTIA, May 5. The Deputies of the Malecontents are return'd from their Clans, and have reported that the Community of Nebbio, which is the Principal of the Iſland, and has ſignalized itſelf the moſt in the late Troubles, has ſubmitted, and would immediately ſend Hoſtages, together with the Act of their Agreement to the Treaty of Accommodation concluded with the Count de Boſſieux; ſo that the Troubles of Corſica now ſeem to be drawing to a happy Concluſion.

DUBLIN. George Manly, lately executed at Wicklow, for Murder, behaved in a ſtrange and undaunted Manner; and at the Tree ſpoke thus;

My Friends,

YOU aſſemble to ſee---What?---A Man take a Leap into the Abyſs of Death. Look, and you ſhall ſee me go with as much Courage as Curtius, when he leapt into the Gulph to ſave his Country from Deſtruction---What then will you ſee of me?---You ſay that no Man without Virtue can be courageous.--You ſee I am courageous.--You'll ſay, I have killed a Man--Marlborough killed his Thouſands, and Alexander his Millions;--Marlborough and Alexander, and many others who have done the like, are famous in Hiſtory for Great Men.---But I killed one ſolitary Man.---Ay, that's the Caſe.---One ſolitary Man.---I'm a little Murderer, and muſt be hang'd. Marlborough and Alexander plundered Countries.---They were great Men, I ran in Debt with the Ale-Wife; I muſt be hanged.

---Now, my Friends, I have drawn a Parallel between two of the Greateſt Men that ever liv'd, and myſelf; but theſe were Men of former Days. Now I'll ſpeak a Word of ſome of the preſent Days: How many Men were loſt in Italy, and upon the Rhine, during the laſt War, for ſettling a King in Poland! Both ſides could not be in the Right; they are Great Men; but I killed a ſolitary Man, I'm a little Fellow. The King of Spain takes our Ships, plunders our Merchants, kills and tortures our Men; but what of all that? What he does is good; he's a Great Man, he is cloathed in Purple, his Inſtruments of Murder are bright and ſhining, mine was but a ruſty Gun; and ſo much for Compariſon.

---Now I would fain know, what Authority there is in Scripture for a rich Man to murder, to plunder, to torture, and ravage whole Countries; and what Law it is, that condemns a poor Man to Death for killing a ſolitary Man, or for ſtealing a ſolitary Sheep to feed his Family. But bring the Matter cloſer to our Country: What is the Difference between running in a poor Man's Debt, and by Power of Gold, or any other Privilege, preventing him from obtaining his Right, and clapping a Piſtol to a Man's Breaſt, and taking from him his Purſe? Yet the one ſhall thereby obtain a Coach, and Honours, and Titles, &c. The other---What?--A Cart and a Rope.

---From what I have ſaid, my Brethren, you may, perhaps imagine I am hardened: But believe me, I am fully convinced of my Follies, and acknowledge the juſt Judgment of GOD has overtaken me; I have no Hopes, but from the Merit of my Redeemer, who I hope will have Mercy on me, as he knows that Murder was far from my Heart, and what I did was thro' Rage and Paſſion, being provoked thereto by the Deceaſed.

---Take Warning, my dear Comrades: Think! O think! ---What would I give, that I had lived another Life.

STOCKHOLM, May 9. The Ratification of his Swediſh Majeſty's Treaty of Commerce with the Porte is juſt arrived. 'Tis agreed by one of the Articles, that for diſcharging the Debts contracted by the late King Charles XII. while he was in Turky; the King ſhall ſend the Grand Seignior a Man of War quite New, with the Sails, Cordage and Rigging, and 72 Guns, beſides 30000 Muskets and Bayonets, and other Arms. The Court has alſo concluded a Treaty with the Algerines. for the Advantage and Security of the Swediſh Navigation in the Mediterranean. By Virtue of this Treaty, the King is to ſend a conſiderable Preſent to the Regency of Algier, conſiſting of Artillery, Arms and Ammunition.

LONDON, June 1. By Letters from Portſmouth, we hear, that Admiral Haddock having receiv'd his final Diſpatches, ſail'd with ſuch Expedition, that ſixty Men and four Lieutenants, belonging to the Squadron, were left behind, who will be turn'd over to other Ships.

The 200 left behind by Admiral Haddock are order'd by the Right Honourable the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty to be forwarded with all imaginable Diſpatch to the Aldborough, now lying at Portſmouth, who is ordered with the utmoſt Expedition to follow and join the Mediterranean Squadron.

June 15. Purſuant to the Orders from the Commiſſioners of the Navy, the Hands at Deptford Yard are cloſely employ'd in preparing a great Quantity of Stores, which are to be ſhipp'd for Port Mahone with all Expedition.

The Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty have ordered the ſeveral Ships at Deptford, Chatham, Portſmouth, Plymouth, &c. to be full mann'd and fitted out with all Expedition, in order to reinforce Admiral Haddock's Squadron in the Mediterranean.

June 28. We have Advice by Letters from Naples, That the Duke of Berwick, Son to the late Marſhal Duke of Berwick, died there the 1ſt Inſtant N. S. univerſally regretted.

gretted. He was certainly a moſt accompliſhed Prince, and had he liv'd, would have made as great a Figure in Arms as the invincible Marſhal his Father had done. To the Martial Spirit of his Father he join'd all the Sweetneſs and Charms of his Mother, Daughter of the Earl of Clanrickard in Ireland. The Chevalier de St. George, and the Iriſh Troops abroad have loſt a warm Friend by his Death. They have likewiſe loſt another great Friend, as they thought him, by the Death of Cardinal Alberoni, which the French A la main ſays happen'd at Ravenna, the 9th Inſtant, N. S. in the 74th Year of his Age: But the Duke was but 44.

From the Whitehall Evening Poſt, June 24.

The following Speech was made by an honourable Gentleman, upon preſenting the Bills for the Royal Aſſent, at the Cloſe of the laſt Seſſion. We believe it is tolerably exact; but it is certainly ſo with regard to the Subſtance of it.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great Britain in Parliament aſſembled, attend your Majeſty with ſeveral Bills; and with one amongſt the reſt for your Royal Aſſent concerning the Supplies granted for the Publick Service of the Year, allowing 3,750,000 l. for the Maintainance of your Fleets & Armies, & diſcharging a Million of the National Debt, and other Purpoſes.

Your Commons at firſt made proviſion but for 10,000 Seamen, they being ſufficient for the common Service; but having ſince been called on, by the Sufferings and Grievances of Your Majeſty's Subjects, to ſtrengthen your Hands, to defend your Rights, and do them Juſtice againſt the lawleſs Power of the Spaniſh Nation in the Seas of America; where your Majeſty's Subjects have, by Nature, and unreſtrained by Compact, an equal Right with them, and are not to be ſubject to any Obſtruction or Moleſtation whatſoever in their Paſſage over thoſe free and open Seas; they have readily granted your Majeſty 10,000 more. To ſuffer the Spaniards to Rummage our Ships, is to give them a Right to the Sovereignty of thoſe Seas, as it was deemed by Great Britain; and was never allowed by any of your Majeſty's Predeceſſors.

Theſe Depredations deſerved the Conſideration of your Commons; and theſe Outrages (if continued) well deſeve your Reſentment. To their Plunder they have added Inſults; and to their Inſults, Cruelties: Inſults the more ſenſibly felt, as they come from a People whoſe Power we always deemed inferior; and whoſe Strength we ever ſubdued when tryed. With theſe Sentiments your Commons applied to the Father of their Country for Redreſs; and received ſuch an Anſwer as the Father of their Country ſhould give; for which your faithful Commons make moſt grateful and dutiful Acknowledgments. Their Application on this Occaſion, was on behalf of their Trade, which is the Life and Spirit of this Nation; reſting perſwaded that by your Interpoſition, you will be able to obtain Juſtice for paſt Injuries, as well as future Security for your Trading Subjects, for the Sake of the Dignity of your Majeſty's Imperial Crown, and the Honour of the Britiſh Nation; which they are ſenſible never were nor ever can be, more ſecure than under your Majeſty's Royal Protection.

Since your Majeſty's Paternal Care has perſerved this Nation under many Difficulties from the Calamities of War, every good Man hopes you will be able to accompliſh the great Work before you without it; yet if the Lot be ſo, that no Satisfaction for our Loſſes & Sufferings can be had, nor Security for the future, nor the Credit of the Britiſh Nation ſupported but by Force of Arms; there's not one Man in the Nation whoſe Heart & Hands would not be willing to ſupport your Majeſty therein, as your faithful Commons are willing & ready to do.

To theſe neceſſary Ends, they deſire your Majeſty's Royal Acception of the Supplies which they have granted for that Purpoſe; which with ſeveral other Bills, SIR, upon the Table, are ready for the Royal Aſſent, and are for the Benefit of the Publick; particularly that which reſtrains the Privilege of Parliament: a Work begun before, but now compleat; and which will put an End to a Practice which tended to the Reproach and Diſhonour of the Parliament.

Rome, June 21. We have this Day had Advice here, that the Queen of the Two Sicilies was arriv'd at Pentello, upon the Frontiers of the Kingdom of Naples. The King who waited for her Arrival in a magnificent Tent, which had been pitch'd for that Purpoſe, ſeeing her alight from the Coach went towards her, who, in approaching his Majeſty, threw herſelf upon her Knees; but the King immediately raiſed her up, embrac'd and kiſs'd her; their Majeſties preſently afterwards took Coach, and continu'd their Journey for Gaeta.

The laſt Advices from Baſtia bring, that it was currently reported there, that his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty having been overcome by the repeated Supplications of the Malecontents, had, at laſt, conſented to leave, at leaſt for ſome time, Part of his Troops in the Iſland; and that a Courier was continually expected with a Confirmation of this Report.

Petersburg, June 17. Letters from Walachia and Moldavia unanimouſly confirm the News of the bad Condition that the Ottoman Troops are in, and ſay, that it's hard to expreſs the Terror with which they are ſeized on hearing of the Approach of the Ruſſians, with whom there is nothing they ſo much dread as coming to Blows. They add, that the Seraskier of Bender was march'd with all haſte towards Bialogrod with the greateſt Part of the Troops under his Command, ſo that Bender is in a manner abandon'd in order to ſave Bialogrod, which, it ſeems, is much the more important Place.

Warſaw, June 25. Letters from the Frontiers bring, that the Troops ſome time ago detach'd by Count Munich towards Oczakow, were happily arriv'd at that Place with the Artillery, Proviſions and Ammunitions, which they had under their Convoy; the Turks & Tartars, who were aſſembled in great Numbers in thoſe Parts to have hinder'd them, not daring to diſpute their Paſſage. The Garriſons of Oczakow and Kinburn amount to above 24000 Men. It's added, that the Army under the Command of Count Munich continu'd it's March along the Boriſthenes. The Spies that this General ſent towards Bender report, that there were no more than 15000 Men in that Neighbourhood, but that this Place was put in a good Poſture of Defence, its Fortifications having been conſiderably augmented. It's reported that the Son of the Kan of the Crimea, with ſeveral Sultans, had paſſed the Boriſthenes with a large Body of Tartars, in order to harraſs the Ruſſians in their March towards the Nieſter; & that the Grand Vizir continu'd at Sophia, from whence he had made a large Detachment to Bender & Bialogrod, to cover thoſe Places in caſe of their being attack'd by the Ruſſians; and that he, with the Remainder of the Army, was marching towards the Bannat of Temeſwaer.

Vienna, June 28. We are inform'd that the Turks have erected four Batteries before Orſova, which vigorouſly batter'd the Place, but have not yet done any great Damage; ſo that there was room to hope that the Baron de Cornberg, Governor, would be able to hold out till the Arrival of the Imperial Army, the Place being well provided with all Neceſſaries, & the Governor having Orders to defend it to the laſt Extremity. If the Grand Vizir is actually marching to join the Troops which form the Siege of Orſova, as is reported, there is great Probability that we ſhall ſoon hear from thence of a Bloody Battle: for the Imperial Army having decamp'd from Temeſwaer the 21ſt Inſtant, was making the beſt of its Way to Orſova, but was likely to meet with Obſtructions in its Way thither, the Turks having fell'd Trees & thrown them in the narrow Paſſages through which it muſt paſs. It's confirm'd, that a contagious Diſtemper very much prevails in ſeveral Parts of the Bannat of Temeſwaer.

Letters from Conſtantinople, by way of Venice, bring, that the Plague makes great Havock in the former of theſe Cities.

Extract from the Votes of the Houſe of Repreſentatives of the Province of Pennſylvania, Sept. 1. 1738

A Meſſage from the Governor to the Aſſembly.

GENTLEMEN,

'I CAN but applaud your Zeal for what you are perſwaded concerns the Publick Welfare, in preparing a 'Bill for re-emitting and adding to your Paper Currency, 'at a Seaſon of the Year, which confeſſedly requires your 'Preſence at your own Homes: But as this Bill is of an 'extraordinary Length, is complicated with others, con'tains Matters quite new to me, and is of the greateſt Con'ſequence, and as too precipitate a Paſſage of it may 'prove deſtructive to the Bill itſelf, and conſequently to 'the Trade and Eſtates of every Man in the Province; 'I fear it will require more time to digeſt it, than the Cir'cumſtances of your private Affairs will now allow me.

'The Sentiments of the Right Honourable the Lords 'of Trade (before whom this Bill muſt be laid) on former 'Bills of the like Kind, the Effect it may have on Trade in general, and particularly on that of Great-Britain, both in regard to Debts now due, and what may be hereafter contracted, must be well considered, as well as whether the additional Sum be not beyond the real Exigencies of the Province; and whether the Interest and Term for Repayment, be well regulated. When you reflect how low the Credit of New-England, Rhode-Island, Connecticut, Maryland and Carolina are fallen, by two frequent and too large Emissions of Paper Money, you will not blame my Caution, more especially as it is disinterested on my Part, and can have no other Tendency than to preserve the Honour of this now flourishing Province.

'I cannot therefore Doubt of your having Candour enough to allow me the Right of Exercising my Judgment, in all Matters that shall come before me, and more especially in one that so nearly concerns the Happiness of the Province, as well as my own Reputation. This Bill, as it is calculated to be the only Act, upon which the Credit of your whole Paper-Money will depend, ought to be well guarded, distinct and properly expressed, that it may carry with it the Evidence of Care and good Judgment in the Framing; without which, it may suffer in the Opinion of those, before whom, you know I am obliged to lay it.

'And therefore, as you have annual Assemblies, who sit upon their own Adjournments, I hope you will not think it unreasonable, that I take some Time and the best Information I can get, the better to enable me to judge rightly of a Bill of this Consequence.

GEO. THOMAS.

The Governor's SPEECH to the Assembly at their Rising, Sept. 2. P. M.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Assembly,

'THE good Agreement which has subsisted between us during this long Session, is, I hope, a happy Presage of the like with all future Assemblies, during my Government: And your Attendance on the Publick Business, at a Time so inconvenient to your private Affairs, deserves the Acknowledgements and Thanks of those you represent.

'As I despise all little Arts for the Advancement of my own Fortune, the Present you have already made me, unasked, unsollicited, and previous to your entring on Business, and your Assurance of an Honourable Support for the Time to come, is in a very particular Manner acceptable to me; and will engage both my Esteem and Affection, as well as excite my best Endeavours for the Service of the Province.

'The Regularity of your own Behaviour may influence some to the Love and Practice of Virtue; but the Corruption of the Generality of Mankind is such, as to require the Severity of Laws. I earnestly therefore recommend to you, Gentlemen, in your several Stations, a strict Execution of them upon such, as will be no otherways terrified from the Practice of Vice and Immorality, and I promise you both my Encouragement and Assistance.

'As you are now to return to your several Counties, I assure myself, that each of you will endeavour to make the People sensible of the great and valuable Blessings and Privileges they enjoy, and that an Abuse of them will be both displeasing to God, and ungrateful to the Memory of the first Founder of this Province, as it will disappoint his generous Intentions, and in the End prove Destructive of their own Happiness.

WHEREAS in the Night Time of the 9*th* Day of this Instant, several Attempts were made to break into the Loan-Office, joyning to the State-House in Philadelphia, at present under the Care of Andrew Hamilton; where all the Mortgage Deeds & Title Deeds of the Persons who have mortgaged their Estates, were deposited; and forasmuch as there neither is nor ever was any Money kept in the said Office, it is believed the same was done with Intent to destroy the said Mortgages & Title-Deeds there lodged; and what makes this more probable to be the Design of the Persons who made that wicked Attempt, is, that in the Night before this Attempt was made, some Persons got into the said Andrew Hamilton's Office by a Back-Window, & (except some little Roguery) they meddled with no Papers, but those which were in the Presses, where the Mortgages and Title Deeds belonging to the General Loan-Office were formerly lodged, before they were removed to the aforesaid Loan Office, where they now remain; If therefore any Person will discover those concerned in the said Attempt of breaking open the said Loan Office, so that one or more of the Offenders be Convicted thereof, he shall have a Reward of Fifty Pounds paid him, by PROPOSALS for Printing by Subscription, A Treatise on the DISEASES of Virginia, and the Neighbouring Colonies. In Four Parts, viz.

I. The remote Causes of the Epidemical Diseases, collectively considered, from the Circumstances of the Climate, and common Way of Living.

II Each Disease separately stated; wherein is shewn the immediate Cause, with a Retrospect to its Connection with the remote Cause, and the curative Part amply set forth.

III. The Reason why Diseases translate.

IV. An Essay on Pleuritick and Peripneumonick Fevers, wherein the Nature of these Diseases is fully and clearly explained; and thence is demonstrated, that the Cure both of the Nervous and inflammatory Kind, consists in attenuating the Blood, save only, that Evacuation is requisite by Blood-letting and Purging in the latter.

To which is annexed, An Appendix, shewing the strongest Reason, a priori, that the Seneka Rattlesnake Root must be of more extensive Use than any Medicine in the Materia Medica; and these Reasons are supported by several Instances of the extraordinary Efficacy of that valuable Medicine, which still more plainly directs its Use in Pleuritick and Peripneumonick Fevers, and other Diseases. And herein is also demonstrated, that this Root will suit the Cure of the Small-Pox: With References to Dr. Hillary's Treatise on that Disease.
